MRS. WANLESS ALSO DIVOR CED

Wife of Defaulting Salt Lake Attorney Freed from the Obliga. tions of Matrimony, Judge Armstrong today granted Jennie Cullinan a divorce from Patrick E. Cullinan on the ground of cruelty. They were married in this city on Nov. 19, 1892. Plaintiff testified that on Jan. 27, 1895, in this city, her husband slapped her face, discoloring one of her eyes and rendering her unfit for house-hold duties for two weeks.

On the night of October 1, 1901, while they resided in Chicago, she said ha came home intoxicated and drove her came home intoxicated and grove her and her daughter out of the house and they were compelled to seek shelter at a neighbor's home. He repeated the act on the night of Nov. 10, 1901, and as she was far from friends she sat on the doorstep all night and contracted a very severe cold which made her ill for six months.

August, 1902, he used vile and abusive language towards her and again slapped her face. They moved to Los Angeles in October of that year and she said that his treatment of her hecame worse, and in January, 1903, he threatened to kill her, whereupon she and her daughter fled from their home for safety and were compelled to stay for safety and were compelled to stay away one week. In June, 1903, she testified that she left him for fear that he would kill her, and she and her daughter returned to Salt Lake to their relatives. For more than a year past she claims that he has failed to support her. She was granted a divorce and was allowed to resume her maiden name, Jennie Rowe

MRS. WANLESS DIVORCED. Corilla C. Wanless was today granted a divorce by Judge Armstrong from Will F. Wanless, the Salt Lake attor-ney who recently left the state to avoid arrest upon the charge of misappro-priating funds belonging to a client. The ground for divorce is failure to sup-port. The plaintiff testified that dur-ing their entire married life defendant had failed to provide her with sufficient and proper food and clothing, and during the winter just passed she was de-pendent upon her friends and relatives for means to provide her with necessary clothing to protect her from the inclement weather. They were married at Phoenix, Ariz., on Feb. 9, 1963. Plaintiff is allowed to resume her malden name, Corilla C. Fisher.

BOY ROBBER HELD.

Petition for Writ of Habess Corpus Denied by Judge Armstrong.

The petition of Harry Benson for a writ of habeas corpus was denied by Judge Armstrong today, and he was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Emery to await the action of the juvenile court. His case will be attended to by Judge Brown without delay should he decide that he will take jurisdiction in the case.

Benson is 17 years old and is charged with robbery. The petition for a writ of habeas corpus was made on the grounds that the complaint against him was not sworn to before a committing magistrate as provided by law, but was sworn to before a deputy clerk of the city court, and that the complaint was made merely on information and belief and not upon positive knowledge.

Judge Armstrong held that the deputy clerk is authorized by law to administer an oath and that such author-dzation is sufficient for him to take oath of a complainant in such a case as this. He also held that the papers in the case did not show that the complaint was sworn to merely on information and belief. He accordingly denied the writ.

Suit on a Note.

Suit has been filed in the district court by Fred G. Lyngberg against John H. and Mary Ryan to recover $390 and interest alleged to be due on a promissory note executed by defendants on Oct. 10, 1901 and which they promised to pay out of an inheritance from the estate of Ryan's father.

Several of the Woodmen's delegation to Los Angeles have returned, with reports of a great time in southern Callfornia. The trip included a sail to Catalina Island, and excursions to various other points of interest. They remark that there is not much chance of the Woodmen's headquarters ever leaving Denver, and that attempts to bring before the convention the matter of any change of location only resulted in the tabling of the motions. It was also noticed that the big states gobbled up all of the offices. SENT TO REFORM SCHOOL.

Edith Goodfellow Committed to That Institution by Judge Brown.

Edith Goodfellow was sent to the reform school at Ogden today by Judge Brown of the juvenile court. The gir is only 15 years of age, and was committed to the school several days ago on the charge of incorrigibility, but sentence was suspended during her good behavior. She failed to be good, however, and was preparing to leave the state and go to Nevada and thus violate her parole, so she was gathered in by the sheriff and will now have to go to Ogden. The complaint against her was made by her father, who said that he could not control her.

SCHETTLER INQUIRY.

Examination Resumed This Afternoon Before Referee Baldwin.

From the line of examination of B. H. Schettler this afternoon in the courtroom of Referee in Bankruptcy Charles Baldwin it was evident that the depositors will make a searching investigation of the transactions of the ex-banker. This afternoon the questions directed against him insinuated that he had given to all his family their total deposits just before the receiver took possession, and that he had transferred property to one of his sons, which in turn was transferred to his wife, for a nominal consideration, shortly before the bank closed, and when the books showed the bank to be totally insol-velt. Additional subpoenas have been issued in the case for Receiver R. R. Anderson, who, it is planned to place upon the stand tomorrow at 10 o'clock and for the wives and all of the grown children of Mr. Schettler, who will be uestioned in relation to their personal clationship with the bank.

The examination, which was continued from yesterday afternoon, was conducted by Attorney C. B. Stewart, Attorney Will Ray, of the firm of Rawlins & Ray, representing Mr. Schettler, Mr. Blakely, the trustee in bankruptcy, spent the morning in the office of Stewart & Stewart, searching through the books for data on which to question Mr. Schettler this afternoon. Andrew Graufor, David Hirsche, and other heavy creditors were Hirsche, and other heavy creditors wa resent when the hearing opened. irst series of questions dealt with the difference in values on real estate between the sworn statement of Schett-ier's bank, made on Sept. 17, 1904, and the values listed in the schedule in ankruptcy, for the same property. The atter statement appeared to be $20,-00 larger than the former. In the examination yesterday queries were put to Mr. Schettler as to the nature of a payment of $225 to W. B. Preston, and today another item of $500 paid to Mr. Preston was found, and it was the inention to query Mr. Schettler concerning it. An them which Mr. Blakely did not favor, about which the attorneys intended to examine Mr. Schettler late this afternoon was the payment to Lydia D. Alder of $600 on the 15th of October. Mrs. Alder is the mother-in-law of Cornelius Schettler. Another payment to the family that was to be investigated was to Carl Schettler of $162 in October. Following up a claim. $163 in October. * This list of contributions, totalling $770, represents the preliminary response of the people of Utah to the appeal of its university for enough money to complete a gymnasium. With the campaign which is now begun to raise the necessary funds comes the assurance from members of the board of regents, that bids for the building will be let at once, and the work will be completed this summer, the committee of citizens in charge of raising the money depending on the support of the people to see that the building is not stopped for lack of funds. Besides the list of contributions published above, most of which came in in response to a circular letter sent out Thursday evening last, assurances of large donations have been made, but their exact nature is withheld for the present. The students have each pledged themselves to pay in $5 within the summer, and the alumni are nearly all coming to the front with substantial ald. In order to make anything at all in the way of a building, the appro-priation of the Legislature must be at priation of the Legislature must be at least quadrupled, and then it would not approach the sums expended for gymnasium buildings by the bigger universities of the east and west.

ning, William Igleheart. TEXT OF REQUEST.

The text of the letter is as follows: You are cordially invited to assist in the promotion of athletics at the University of Utah. Systematic physical training is so essential to the mental and moral development of the youth that all well-regulated colleges and universities are expending vast sums for the equipment of gymnasiums, swimming pools, shower baths, football, baseball and tennis grounds, and, in fact, for all features looking to the proper physical development of college

Broad-minded educators fully realize that in order to produce the highest type of manhood the development must be three-sided—moral, intellectual, physical. The triangle is the strongest form of construction known to architecturand it is this three-sided developmen symmetrical, each side being appropri-ately developed, which the young man or young woman must have in order to be able properly to meet the problems of life in this strenuous age.

Never before in the history of the world has there been such a demand for a higher type of physical manhood along with a well-trained mind and a quickened moral perception as exists at the present day. The young man in any walk of life who is a slave to discusse or is in a pumy physical condition. any walk of life who is a slave to dis-case or is in a puny physical condition has not an even chance with his strong-er fellowmen, and the time is fast ap-proaching when men will be as much ashamed of physical as of intellectual and moral imperfections. For intel-lectual development we must have the library and the laboratory; and just as essential to physical development is the gymnasium and the athletic field. The University of Pennsylvania has recently expended more than half a mil-

recently expended more than half a million dellars in a gymnasium and in the improvement of her athletic field; Stanford, a like amount: likewise at Yale, Harvard, Cornell, Michigan, and in all state universities there is an ever-growing interest in athletics in answer to the demand of the age that these institutions turn out men well equipped physically as well as intellec-

We request that you read it carefully. Prof. White's comments are of encoded laters the cause of bias. it carefully. Prof. White's comments are of special interst, because of his high standing in the medical world. Surely, if after years of careful observation of the effects of athletics, an institution which is an acknowledged medical center, will expend $600,000 upon a gymnasium and athletic ground, no further argument should be needed to induce the citizens of Utah to follow the good example and to provide means for the proper physical and, therefors, as shown by Prof. White's argument, the mental and moral well being of the young men and women who should become leaders in contributing to the well being of our state.

eing of our state. being of our state.

The University of Utah has not even sufficient funds for general educational features, and athletics are unavoidably neglected. While some provision is made, it is inadequate to meet the need. The gymnasium is poorly equipped and the incentive for systematic athletic training is generally lacking. It seems training is generally lacking. It seems necessary to call upon the alumni, former students and the citizens generally to place the athletics of the University upon a stable basis, which, once tablished, can thereafter be mainhe subscriptions have ranged from $10 to $100. A very large number of the students have agreed to contribute $5 each from their summer earnings. This means a good deal for one who is spending money almost the entire year and can only work for a few weeks. Will you give us your co-operation both in money and words and good will?

Prof. Byron Cummings is treasurer and contributions should be addressed to him at the University.

HOME RAILROADER BOOMS SALT LAKE

Declares it Has the Beautiful City Of Los Angeles "Skinned A Mile."

GOOD EXAMPLE TO FOLLOW.

Hint That the Knockers Organ Might Take Note of With Profit

To All Concerned.

Regarding the mission of every patriotic Salt Laker to boost for Salt Lake morning, noon and night, a member of the local railroad fraternity tells a story about District Freight and Passenger Moore of the Salt Lake Route on the occasion of his recent visit to Los Angeles, a city that boasts it has best of everything going and whose citizens will fight at the drop of the hat if anyone has the temerity to assert that any place on the globe can hold a candle to it.

It happened in one of the big elevators in the Huntington building as a load of 30 people were coming down from the top floor. One of the passengers started joshing Moore about being isolated among the "Mormons" away off in Salt Lake and then he turned loose on his. "Salt Lake has got Los Angeles skinned a mile," said the railroad man, while the assembled Californians while the assembled Californians gasped in righteous horror, "we have better streets, more amusements and a climate that knocks Los Angeles silly. Just as soon as people know just what we have in Salt Lake, we will not have cars enough to haul them there to get in on the ground floor of the coming boom."

People tried to reason with Moore but he was obdurate and carried on the argument down the street. The gentleman in relating the story stated that Moore carried out this policy during his stay in Los Angeles and got into a number of warm arguments regarding the relative merits of the two cities.

"If," said he, "everybody who went away from Salt Lake would take a leaf out of Moore's book and boost first, lest and all the time there would be something doing in Salt Lake. Condi-tions here are very similar to those ex-isting in Los Angeles before the boom. It is time to form a Boosters' club and bury the hatchet. I cannot for the life of me see the good of this fight that is being waged by a lot of soreheads one would think that they would want one would think that they would want to get all the outsiders here possible instead of frightening them away. If they want to outvote the 'Mormons' one would think that the greater the number of strangers that was induced to come to Salt Lake the greater would be their chances of gaining their object. This knocking that is going on is senseless. There never was a time when Salt Lake could be so benefited by boosting as right now. Why not all pull together and quit this criminal defamation of a city that has every natural advantage of being ultimately the biggest in the inter-mountain region?" gion?
